TIM CROUCH'S AN OAK TREE EXTENDS RUN AT THE YOUNG VIC IN THE PLAY'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY YEAR

MORE GUEST ARTISTS JOIN THE LINEUP

- Tim Crouch's An Oak Tree has extended its run at London's Young Vic, now playing 6 - 24 May 2025.
- Written, performed and co-directed by Tim Crouch, the play features a different guest artist in every performance, who has neither seen nor read the play before.
- Adjoa Andoh, Jessie Buckley, Arthur Darvill, Julie Hesmondhalgh, Mark Gatiss and Alex Lawther join the previously announced Şopé Dirisù, Michelle Terry, Luke Thompson, Russell Tovey and Indira Varma who will perform opposite Tim Crouch, for the 20th anniversary of the production. Each guest artist will only be revealed to audiences live on the night, as they join Tim on stage.

The Young Vic Theatre has today announced an extension to Tim Crouch's *An Oak Tree, now playing from 6 - 24 May 2025. Tickets are on sale now at youngvic.org.

An Oak Tree is presented by Francesca Moody Productions, the Olivier Award-winning producers of Fleabag and Baby Reindeer, in association with the Young Vic in the groundbreaking play's 20th anniversary year.

More guest artists have been announced today who will each take to the Young Vic stage on a different date to perform alongside Tim who returns to star in the production. Newly announced names include Adjoa Andoh (Bridgerton, Richard II) Jessie Buckley (The Lost Daughter, Cabaret), Arthur Darvill (Broadchurch, Oklahoma!) Mark Gatiss (The League of Gentlemen, The Motive and the Cue), Julie Hesmondhalgh (Mr Bates vs The Post Office, Punch) and Alex Lawther (The End of the Fing World, Black Mirror).

They join the previously announced Şopé Dirisù (Gangs of London, Slow Horses), Michelle Terry (Tribes, The Cafe), Luke Thompson (Bridgerton, A Little Life), Russell Tovey (Being Human, American Horror Story: NYC) and Indira Varma (Game of Thrones, Present Laughter). Each guest artist will only be revealed to audiences live on the night, as they join Tim on stage. The final remaining artists are to be announced in the coming weeks.

Written, performed and co-directed by award-winning theatre maker, writer, actor and director Tim Crouch, this bold, absurdly comic, and profoundly moving story of loss, suggestion, and the power of the mind pioneered the idea of the theatrical 'cold-read' and has significantly influenced other artists that have gone on to explore this form. In every performance, a different guest artist steps into the unknown, having never seen, read or rehearsed the play before who will only perform it once during the run.

Since its premiere in 2005, over 350 different guest artists including Frances McDormand, Geoffrey Rush, Sharon D Clarke, Alanis Morissette, Sophie Okonedo and Peter Dinklage have appeared in the play in 19 different countries from Lithuania, Argentina and the UK to Hong Kong, Australia and the USA. An Oak Tree is directed by Tim Crouch, Karl James and Andy Smith, the play also features music by Peter Gill.

When I say sleep, you're free again.

A father loses his daughter in a car accident. The driver of the car that killed her is a stage hypnotist. The two men meet for the first time when the father volunteers for the hypnotist's act. What follows is a live theatrical experience like no other - a bold and absurdly comic story of loss, suggestion and the power of the mind.

An Oak Tree will be presented at the Young Vic Theatre by Francesca Moody Productions (FMP) in association with the Young Vic. FMP's work in theatre has originated two of the most globally successful television shows of the last decade: Fleabag and Baby Reindeer. Upcoming and current projects include Weather Girl (opening at Soho Theatre in March), Feeling Afraid As If Something Terrible is Going to Happen (touring to Arts Centre Melbourne, Sydney Opera House, Adelaide Festival this winter) and How to Win Against History (opening at Bristol Old Vic in June).

Tim Crouch said, "Exactly twenty years ago a laboratory was created in a small room above a pub in South London where an experiment took place. Actors were invited to try out a new play I'd written called An Oak Tree - like trying out a new drug formulation. Each time a different actor who knew nothing about the play they were going to be in - a blind test each time. For some of the actors the drug was euphoric. For some it was heartbreaking. For some it was riotous. For some it was hard work. But the experiment was never less than enthralling. Twenty years later and that experiment is still ongoing with 374 blind tests to date. 374 actors who have done the play with me. And the laboratory has moved on from London to New York to LA to Russia to South America to Australia to Asia. Each time an actor who doesn't know the play. Each time the same conditions. Each time a different result.

Twenty years since that room above a pub and the laboratory is the Young Vic, a theatre that has consistently proved its devotion to the new; a theatre that has developed an audience that is open and enquiring and engaged. I'm thrilled to see what happens to the experiment there. I'm thrilled to meet actors in the moment of performance. Actors I've never met in a play they've never met. Meeting an audience for one time only."

An Oak Tree opens at the Young Vic on 6 May 2025. The Young Vic's 2025/26 Season, the inaugural programme under new Artistic Director Nadia Fall, will be announced later this Spring.

About the Young Vic Theatre

Founded in 1970 as a space for world-premiere productions and unexpected takes on classic plays that speak urgently to our present, the Young Vic Theatre has been one of London's leading theatres for more than fifty years.

Welcoming more than 100,000 visitors a year to its London Waterloo location, the Young Vic stands out in the city's cultural landscape for balancing daring commercial drive, success and artistic flair with genuine grassroots social impact change in our neighbourhood. We forge deep connections in our neighbourhood through our Taking Part programme, where we engage with over 15,000 people every year via a wide range of projects, from skills-based workshops to on-stage performances. We give 10% of our tickets free to schools and neighbours, irrespective of box office demand, and we are committed to keeping ticket prices low.

The Young Vic's Creators Program is our space for multi- and anti-disciplinary artists, and is the only scheme of its kind. Launched in 2001, and formerly known as the Directors Program, we offer artists and producers a unique opportunity to develop their craft through opportunities that range from trainee and assistant director roles to a two-year residency through the Genesis Fellow/Associate Director position. The Genesis Network provides an online community to over 2,500 artists and producers. Each year, the recipient of the Genesis Future Directors Award directs a show in the Clare Theatre with full support from the Young Vic team.

Built upon the principles of access, innovation, and community, the Young Vic is deepening its roots nationally and internationally. Recent transfers include a Death of a Salesman and The Collaboration on Broadway, and Best of Enemies and Rodgers & Hammerstein's Oklahoma! in the West End.

The Young Vic's founding spirit is iconoclastic and pushing at the forefront of possibility, bringing together artists and audiences on a global scale and using the power of stories to change our world.

The Young Vic's annual activities are made possible with public funding from Arts Council England.

We thank Lambeth Council and Southwark Council for their ongoing support.

Additional support is provided by the Genesis Foundation.

We gratefully acknowledge Ian Burford and Alec Cannell for generously supporting the Young Vic's mission.

Thank you to all of our donors who make our work possible.

About Francesca Moody Productions

FMP is an Olivier Award-winning, Tony-nominated production company whose work in theatre has originated two of the most globally successful television shows of the last decade: Fleabag and Baby Reindeer.

We make original theatre, television, film and audio. We believe in finding the right home for the right story and growing it over time. From tiny fringe theatres to the West-End, to the next big Amazon television series and beyond.

We're serious about our work, but we don't take ourselves too seriously. We work with leading writers and nurture new talent to produce bold, award-winning shows with huge potential and something to say – be it drama, comedy, horror, or musicals. Our work is itch-scratching, big-swinging and full of heart.

Current and upcoming productions include: Feeling Afraid As If Something Terrible is Going to Happen (Arts Centre Melbourne, Sydney Opera House, Adelaide Festival); Weather Girl (Soho Theatre) and How to Win Against History (Bristol Old Vic, Underbelly), Garry Starr: Classic Penguins (Underbelly), My Master Builder (Wyndham's Theatre).

Recent productions include: I'm Almost There, Weather Girl (Summerhall); VL (Roundabout at Summerhall); Kathy and Stella Solve a Murder (The Ambassadors Theatre, Underbelly Edinburgh, Bristol Old Vic, HOME Manchester, Roundabout); An Oak Tree (Bergen International Festival, Festival d'Avignon, Royal Lyceum Theatre Edinburgh); Feeling Afraid As If Something Terrible is Going to Happen (Bush Theatre, Roundabout); Nutcracker (Southbank Centre) Never Have I Ever (Chichester Festival Theatre); School Girls; Or, The African Mean Girls Play (Lyric Hammersmith); A Doll's House (Hudson Theatre, New York); A Streetcar Named Desire (Phoenix Theatre); Lemons Lemons Lemons (Harold Pinter Theatre); Berlusconi: A New Musical (Southwark Playhouse Elephant); Mum (Soho Theatre); Leopards (Rose Theatre) and Baby Reindeer (Bush Theatre, Roundabout).
